Local Teen Wins Video PSA Contest

Video relays compelling message about the dangers of underage drinking and driving

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 29, 2008—Amber Ostrander, a 10th grade student at Coronado High School, recently won the McDivitt Law Firm Video PSA Contest, which asked area teens to produce videos discussing their feelings and thoughts regarding the dangers of underage drinking and driving. During a ceremony at Coronado High School on Tuesday, April 22, Mike McDivitt and his wife, Karen, who is the firm's community outreach coordinator, presented Amber with an Apple MacBook. Also, Amber's winning entry began airing on local television Friday, April 25. A donation of $3,000 also was given to Coronado High School on behalf of the McDivitt Law Firm.

"It has been a real honor for McDivitt Law Firm to host a competition that helps convey the many dangers of teenage drinking and driving," explained Mike McDivitt, founder of McDivitt Law Firm. "We were absolutely stunned at the quality of each entry in the PSA contest. Clearly, it is a testament to the talented and energetic teenagers we have in our community. We also recognize the hard work the students put into their entries, and we salute the schools and dedicated teachers who supported these students."

Karen Teel, Youth Programs Specialist with Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) Colorado, also was in attendance during the ceremony. "We are delighted to see talented young people taking a proactive stand against underage drinking," Teel said. "Their creative commitment to keeping their peers and community informed is an inspiration. We applaud all the contestants and McDivitt Law Firm for making a difference and protecting our youth with positive messaging."

The PSAs, which were judged on students' abilities to analyze and discuss the topic and produce a quality video, can be found on the McDivitt Law Firm Web site at www.McDivittLaw.com.
