

Corporate Fact Sheet

Corporate Background

Founded in 1989 by Mike and Dr. Karen McDivitt, McDivitt Law Firm has become a highly visible and respected Colorado personal and work injury law firm that provides legal advice and representation for a variety of issues, including those related to general personal injury claims, workers' compensation, and Social Security Disability.

Personal injury lawyer Mike McDivitt has more than 30 years of trial litigation and settlement negotiation experience in personal injury, workers' compensation, and Social Security Disability claims. Dr. Karen McDivitt, the business manager of the firm, has guided the firm's successful economic development since its inception, including the design and creation of the firm's original custom management software system. She also serves as the marketing director and chief financial officer of the firm and has overseen each aspect of the firm's physical plant development. Dr. McDivitt currently works to keep the computer records of costs related to client cases organized, accurate, and easily accessible to all members of the legal team.

The lawyers at McDivitt Law Firm are experienced and seasoned trial lawyers and are dedicated to their clients' cases. Additionally, the lawyers, case managers, and support staff provide caring, energetic, and thorough legal representation for people who have been injured physically, psychologically, economically, and emotionally. The professional legal staff approaches every case as a team and maintains open communication with clients to keep them informed about their cases. The attorneys at McDivitt Law Firm provide comprehensive personal injury counsel, including legal advice and representation for issues related to workplace injuries and workers' compensation, Social Security Disability benefit denials, and all other general personal injury claims such as auto accidents and wrongful death.

The law firm has offices in Colorado Springs, Pueblo, and Denver, Colorado.
